

Inviting You to Xmax's First Shareholders' Meeting: Charting a New Chapter for the Future

Dear Xmax Shareholders and Investors:

I hereby formally invite you to attend the first shareholder meeting of Xmax Corporation (NASDAQ: XMAX). Since our official launch and public trading, your trust and support have fueled our journey. This meeting aims to engage directly with you, share our progress, and jointly plan our future strategy.

[Meeting Theme]

Focusing on the Future Ecosystem, Creating Long-Term Value

1. Strategic Progress Report: Detailing the investment progress and synergies of core assets such as SpaceX, xAI, and Neuralink;
2. Technological Insights: Sharing the latest breakthroughs and trends in the space economy, artificial intelligence, and brain-computer interfaces;

3. Financial and Governance Transparency: Disclosure of key data from the first financial report and the company's governance structure;

4. Shareholder Interaction Session: Directly ask questions of management and participate in discussions on major company decisions.

[Meeting Details]

The meeting date is to be determined. Format: Live online broadcast (available globally) concurrently with an in-person event at our New York headquarters.

Registration: Please register and obtain the conference link/seat via the shareholder section on our official website.

[Why Your Participation Matters]

Xmax shareholders are not just investors; they are co-builders of future technology. Your perspective and suggestions will directly help us:

- Optimize our portfolio strategy;
- Deepen collaboration with ecosystem partners;
- Explore investment opportunities in next-generation disruptive technologies.

This conference will showcase Xmax's 2025–2027 strategic roadmap for the first time, including:

- Plans for emerging technology sectors (such as quantum computing and sustainable energy);
- Global expansion and partner network development;
- Strategies for long-term shareholder value return.

To ensure an efficient meeting, please submit your questions in advance via our official website (answers will be prioritized during the meeting). Meeting minutes and video replays will also be provided to all shareholders afterward.
